

Table of Contents

"The present North Jetty was successful in stabilizing to a considerable extent the location of the harbor entrance and in giving more uniform depth of water on the bar"

Edgar McDaniel, The Great Natural Harbor of the Pacific
(1929:6)

Introduction	i
Acknowledgments	ii
Table of Contents	iii
List of Figures	v
Explorations of Fur Trappers	1
Wreck of the Captain Lincoln	3
Empire City	6
Initial Mapping of the Coos Bay North Spit	9
Subdivision of the North Spit, 1857	11
U.S. Coast Survey Labors, 1861-65	15
U. S. Army Corps of Engineers	44
Photographs of North Jetty Project	87
U.S. Life-Saving Service Station	102
U.S. Navy Radiocompass Station	108
Coos Bay Range Lights	112
North Jetty Reconstruction Projects	115
Conclusions	121
Bibliography	125